Io England field trials have been for years a national institution, and in a year or so they will be in this country.

-Some weeks ago the residence of Mr. Robert Allen, at the corner of Hadden avenue and South streets, was entered by thieves, who succeded in getting away with an overcoat. A coupling pin found on the rear porch next morning after the robbery created much excitement in the neighborhood, and the theory was advanced by all that the thieves, if discovered in the act, intended to commit murder. De-tective Pryde was detailed to investigate the case, and yesterday he ar rested a negro named Morris Scott and a charge of larceny was placed op-posite his name on the S ation House register. Scott will have a hearing this morning before Judge Hadden.

PERSONAL.

F. W. SNELL, correspondent of the New York Times, is in the city.

MRS. T. J. LATHAM is in Hopkinsville Ky., visiting the family of Mr. Joseph Wooldridge.

CLINTON J. EDGERLY, of Yonkers, N. Y., manager of the Rose Coghlan Dramatic Company, is in the city. MISSIS GENTRUDS AND JESSIE ALconn, of Hagis Nest, Miss., are at the Peabody Hotel, the guests of Miss Pet Galloway.

DR M. Nay Smith, Tspeworm Specialist, has returned to Memphis, and will remain a few days at No. 72 Madi-son street. See "ad" on first page. Consultation free.

GEN. WM. PRESTON, of Kentucky, i stopping at Duffy's European Hotel and will leave for his home in Lexington, Ky., at 10 a.m. by the Louisville and Nashville railway.

WM. A. Stona, a young gentleman who was raised in Memphis, and has an immense number of friends and well wishers, has become connected with the wholesale drug store of J. J. Miles. It there were nothing else to make him popular, many would ad-mire him because he is the son of "Old Charley" Stone, who was a newspaper man a cood many years ago, and who, as well as his family, have the good will of all.

AMUSEMENTS.

Scanlan's Engagement, Shane-Na-Lawn was again presented last evening, and will not be reproduced until Saturday matines. Mr. Scanlan sings a number of pleasing songs during the progress of the play and makes a most favorable impression. The play is amusing and inter-esting and the people in the cast make the most of it. Tonight and towerrow the most of it. Tonight and tomorrow night will be produced Fred Marsden's romantic drama, The Irish Minstrel. Rose Coghlan.

This celebrated actress will surely have a large week at the Theater Christmas. There has not been a star in Memphis for years, or if ever, who was so strongly supported as Miss Cogblan. The following is from the Boston Journal as to her "Lady Teazle in School for Scandal: Miss Coghlan has endeavored to make her presentation of the comedy as natural as possible. She herself has played the leading lady role scores and scores of times, and it was in that part that she opened Wallack's new theater in New York. She dresses herself well in accordance with the custom of "ye olden days," and makes a pretty stage picture. At the close of the first act Miss Coghlan has a minnot danced that gives a pertinent end-ing and serves still further to carry the mind back to the days of "Sir Peter" and 'Lady Feanle," It seemed scarcely necessary, however, to alter the text. Miss Coghian's interpretation of the character is one that makes the auditor like the fair lady in spite of her faults and does not cast a shade over the part, as could be easily done. Her "Lady Teaxle" has always a lively, dashing air, but with her gossiping ac-tion soes a sincere, honest disposition that shows at once that she is stirred to the discreditable follies of the cociety in which she moves only by her innocent desire-country maid that she is and ignorant of city ways-to be in the fashion. Her open coun-tenance and frank, merry laugh show that she still possesses some "country prejudices" that will not let her join forces, heart and soul, with the prevailing folies of the day. Her "Lady Teazle" has a saucy air and there is a Teszle" has a saucy air and there is a fresh country breez ness to her interpretation that takes off the edge of half her "fashionable" and thoughtless actions. Mr. Charles Walcot gives "Sir Feter" in good manner and Mrs. Walcott was admirable in her impersonation of that hypocritical, self glorifying paragon of outside goodness and inward malice, "Mrs. Candor." Mr. de Belleville as "Charles" and the remainder of the support also were good. support also were good.

THE reunion and reception of the Merchants' Exchange, which will come off on the evening of December 30th, will be a most enjoyable affair. Reception will commence at 8 o'clock, dancing at 9 o'clock. The refreehment room will be opened at 9:30 o'clock p.m. and remain open until 1 o'clock a.m. The reception will take place in the Merchants' Exchange room, the dancing in the Cotton Exchange room, and the refreshments will be spread down stairs.

The following was posted by Secretary Hotter on the Cotton Buchange board yesterday: "The movement of cotton to Newport Naws, Va., this search was to date amounts va., son up to date amounts to, in round numbers, 70,000 bales. This cotton belongs to the net port receipts, but has not been reported by either the Gold and Stock Telegraph Company or the National Cotton Exchange, owing to the fact that the Chesapeake, Onio and Southwestern railroad authorities at Newport News have thus far declined to give the information. The matter is being investigated with a view to a speedy correction.

A Druggist's Story. Mr. Isaac C. Chapman, druggist, Newburg, N. Y., writes us: "I have for the past ten years sold several gross of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I can say of it what I cannot say of any other medicine, I have never heard a customer speak it but to praise its virtues in the highest manner. I have recommended it in a great many cases of whooping cough, with the happiest effects. I have used it in my own family for many years; in fact, always have a bottle in the medicine closet ready for
